Every Blade of Grass: A Novel Thomas Wharton

A novel of letters. A book of wonders. A story of love, loss, and life on Earth.

The story begins in the pre-internet age with a letter left at the front desk of a hotel in Iceland. The recipient, Martha Geddes, is a neophyte journalist from New York, the sender, James Weaver, a rebellious young ecologist from Vancouver. Despite the fact that their lives couldn't be more different, they feel a mutual attraction, the problem being that they live on opposite sides of a continent and one of them happens to be married to someone else.

Over the years, while James travels the world and Martha stays close to home, they share their love for the oddities and marvels of nature through letters, while never quite confessing the depth of their feelings for one another. When tragedy occurs, words from a distance may not be enough to help a friend find the way back from the darkness.

A compelling historical fiction. A romance unlike any you've read before. A love letter to the planet. Every Blade of Grass takes the reader on an unforgettable journey through grief and loss to a reawakening to life.

A life-affirming new novel from the best-selling author of Icefields, Salamander, and the Perilous Realm Trilogy.
